Beginning of the Year

Kevin Foster and Brian Swenson run to win a race against the other men in Johnson Hall.

Krysten Day and Kai Blakeborough lead the first worship service of the year at the K-State Union.

Along with every new school year comes new memories. The first days of school often become overwhelming. There are so many fun things to do and so little time. Moving in, NSO groups, enrollment, and of course catching up with friends always seems to keep us busy. Activities included this year were: bowling at the K-State Union, the annual Students vs. Faculty/Staff softball game, and Worship Celebration. These activities helped students get pumped up for the school year ahead and also gave students a chance to hangout with each other.

Tess Caywood, Robyn Kejr, Becca Lee, and Jamie Moldrup spend time reconnecting during the Faculty/Staff vs. Student softball game.

HS

Josh Alspaw offers support as Cade Foster and Alex Turner hoist Staci Toland over the string during an NSO activity.

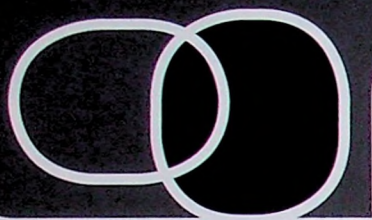

Jordan Scanlan as well as the rest of the student body enjoyed the Worship Celebration.

Zach Force, Ben MacGill, Zach Anderson, Eric Schneider, and Ben Cook show their enthusiasm for the upcoming year.

Jolliffe Hall

Students Evan Mendenhall, Amanda Cruz and Joe Rubeo worshipping at the first service in Jolliffe Hall.

Jolliffe Hall has played a key role in the life, history, and mission of MCC hosting everything from classrooms to library, chapel to campus bookstore, faculty offices to student mailroom. This 80-year old limestone building was completely gutted and rebuilt from the inside out. President Ingram challenged faculty and staff to "Believe" that Jolliffe would reopen and God would use it to enhance the ministry of the college. Jolliffe Hall now provides new and enlarged space for worship, ministry, and education. The new building includes wireless technology, a 300-seat multi-purpose chapel, two classrooms, a permanent home for the college library, and a 3-story glass atrium with elevator. Jolliffe Hall has always been an important tool that MCC uses to intentionally meet her ministry goals. It will continue to enrich the community life of MCC and serve the next generation of Christian leaders.

President Ingram reads a passage of Scripture at the Jolliffe Hall dedication.

Many MCC students gave up their seats for the community guests and stood in the hallway during the dedication service.

Barn Party

Eric Schneider enjoys a little "Party in the USA."

Andrew Gibbons is John the Southern Baptist proclaiming "Prepare ye the way of the Lord unto the Southern land!"

Yeah....yeah! For the longest time, the MCC annual Barn Party has taken place at the beloved Swihart Barn. In 2009, things changed and it was a good change we will not forget. We got to have it in the log barn at The Scenic Valley Inn. The evening was full of hilarious music, free food, great fellowship, and amazing costumes. Costume winners included: best girl - Jessie Bennie, best boy - Michael Sullivant, best couple - Curtis and Katie Jensen, best group - Brighid O'Toole, Michelle Brooks, Jordan Murphy, Jacque Blick, and best impression by Brittany Baisley. There was also an inflatable jousting and pumpkin carving.

Brighid O'Toole and Jacob Carlson compliment each other very nicely.

Bryce Jones, Garrett Modlin, Alex Turner, and Bryan Sammons are Manhattan's top rated newsmen.

Practicing for the afterlife.

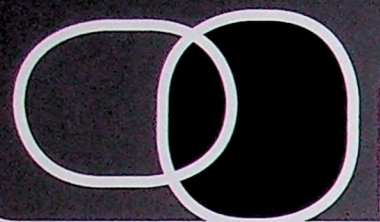

Kudos to Brian Powers for pulling off George Costanza from Seinfeld.

The essence of a camp team captured forever...Benjamin Eggers, Shahn Monson, Alina Launchbaugh, and Brittney Swartzen-truber.

Winter Banquet

Bryan Sammons and Leah Scanlan enjoy swing dancing on the dance floor.

Sarah Hachmeister, Alina Launchbaugh, and Rachel Moore giggle about their crimped hair.

Tradition continues on for MCC with the annual Winter Banquet sponsored by CPC. With this year's theme of "Retro Prom," students all across MCC swarmed the thrift stores and closets to get the perfect retro outfit from the 80's or earlier. Students danced the night away to old school songs. This year's theme allowed a vote for Prom King and Queen which was awarded to Kris Morrison and Elise Drennen. Second place winners were Matt Varner and Kelsey Taylor, and third place were Andrew Crandall and Brittany Baisley. Also, money raised by the tickets sponsored one family's Christmas.

Mike Sullivant, Chad Hannagan, Nick Brown, and Kai Blakeborough pose for the camera for their last Winter Banquet together.

Just look at that smile of relief! Jacob Carlson caught his beloved Brigid O'Toole just before she fell on the dance floor.

Much Love,
Much Personality,
Much Unity,
That is MCC.

Brandon Roth and Laura Skiles make a wish by the Christmas tree.

Tess Caywood and Brittany Baisley will always remember the Winter Banquet of 2009.

Chapel

Liz Jackson shares her piano playing talent during a chapel service.

Pecos Inchaustegui was one of many guest speakers at chapel.

For many of the students chapel was a very different experience from what they were used to. No more setting up chairs, band equipment, and listening to and smelling lunch being cooked. In October the newly remodeled Jolliffe Hall was open and ready to once again host the weekly chapel services. Every Tuesday students gathered together to praise and honor God and be challenged by different speakers. Many of our own Faculty and Staff presented messages to us as well as MCC alumni and special guests. It was truly a blessing to be united as a student body each week and remember what and who we are here at Manhattan Christian College.

Ben MacGill leads worship while Allison Smith and Adam Evans help lead.

Amanda Cruz, Tandra Bray, and Kevin Foster pray during the first chapel service in Jolliffe Hall.

Brian Wilde, Tiffany McIlvain, Joe Rubeo, Adam Kaup, and Sara Pugh were one of the several worship teams.

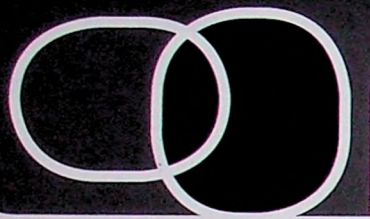

Nick Sauceman puts his whole heart into leading worship during chapel.

Kenoyer Hall

Rebekah Hachmeister, Melanie Lee, and Danielle Williams see how many people can fit on a Kenoyer bed!

Elise Drennan and Maggie Park show their picture posing expertise.

At the beginning of every year new friendships are formed. Most of these friendships are formed within the residence halls. In Kenoyer, there is not an exception to this. Girls from all over the United States come together inside the Kenoyer Hall walls. Kenoyer Hall isn't just a place to go and sleep every night, but is a place that host many other things. These things include pranking, movie watching, dance parties, devos, fight night, GBC, prayer, last minute homework, and relationships that will last a lifetime. Kenoyer, although chaotic at times, is the best place to feel like you are at home. Kenoyer is a place that the most unlikely of people can come together and build lasting memories.

Kenoyer ladies play a game to get to know each other during move in day.

Johnson Hall

Jesse King and Joshua Montgomery enjoy life in Johnson Hall.

There is no place like Johnson Hall. There is not another place like it. You can try to find another place but it would not compare. In Johnson Hall, lies the land of adventure and freedom, the place of unity among men. Upon the stroke of ten every Monday, the men of Johnson Hall would pour into Jolliffe Hall eager to hear the word of God at Dorm Devos. Together the men bonded in these walls and built long lasting memories. Though not all who lived here will be returning to the dorms next year, we will still carry these memories in our hearts.

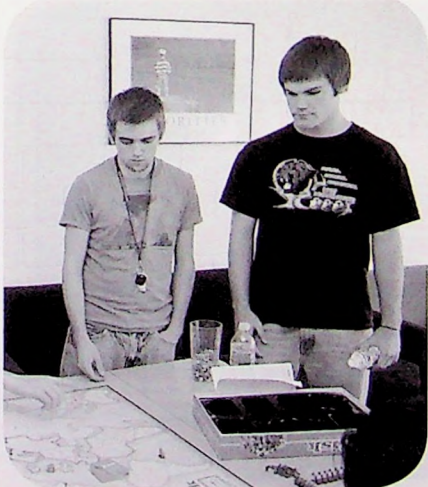

Austin Rupe and Nathan Love found time during all the fun Johnson activities to study.

Jaylin Storm, Michael Shahan, and Jordan Shelton are the best Wii players in Johnson Hall.

KD: Community

While at the Flint Hills Bread Basket, Mike Williams helps in the dismantling of extra boxes.

As a new Fall semester came, so did another round of the annual Kerusso Dayz: Community volunteer service projects. Several MCC students signed up to team up with other students in an effort to serve the needs of the Manhattan community. Teams were sent to a variety of locations to assist with many different types of projects, ranging everywhere from raking leaves at Sunset Cemetery to helping organize donations at the Emergency Shelter. By actively serving the community, each team was successfully able to fulfill the mission of Kerusso Dayz - "to proclaim God's love to His people."

Tiffany McIlvain and Allyssa Kaufmann team up together while working on a market place structure for the Swihart's Bethlehem Revisited project.

Kerusso Dayz

This year during spring break MCC was able to send out five different teams to different areas to "Proclaim God's love to His people." The Stockton team, led by Nick Steffen, spent the week at Lakeview Christian Camp where they were exposed to ministry in Western Kansas. While serving there they helped cut down cedar trees and paint the dining hall among other projects. The Chicago team, led by Bethanni Gomez and Andrew Crandall, worked at Edgewater Baptist Church helping paint and clean up around the church. They also served in the church's after school program, Safeplace. The Bridge team, led by Cody Davey, spent the week in Joplin, Missouri hanging out with youth, cleaning up the facility, and patching up many walls for upcoming painting. The Rocky Point team, led by Jennifer McGauley and Zach Anderson, spent their break serving in Mexico. While there, they demolished a community building, helped stucco several buildings, and also put on a community outreach program. The Mexico City team, led by Katie Wright, also spent the week in Mexico. This team served with a church ministry there, also helping with many projects and assisted with a club seeking to teach English to the people. Overall, the break presented several opportunities for students to serve and be exposed to different areas and types of ministry!

While completing a service project in Mexico City, Katie Wright helps do some painting.

Rocky Point Team: Jac Phillips, Nathan Love, Zach Anderson, Kevin Foster, Jennifer McGauley, and Brian Swenson.

Lakeview Christian Camp Team: Brooke Carlson, Mychal Domingo, Andrew Gibbons, Nick Steffen, and Ben Grogg.

Allison Smith, Amanda Owens, and Bethanni Gomez play outside with some kids from Safeplace in Chicago during recreation time.

Student Life

Curtis Jensen is so excited for Break Away.

This year was amazing to say the least. There has been many great student activities to remember, as each one celebrates the student life at MCC. Break Aways. CAN Events. Open Dorms. Christmas Open House. These are times that we will not forget. Friday Break Away's always have large crowds where students sit back, relax, and enjoy free food together. Open Dorms and Christmas Open House reveals how hospitable the MCC community is. The Super Bowl party, World Series party, and the Final Four Championship bring the MCC family together for more fun and fellowship. Oh, what a joy it is to be a part of the MCC family rituals.

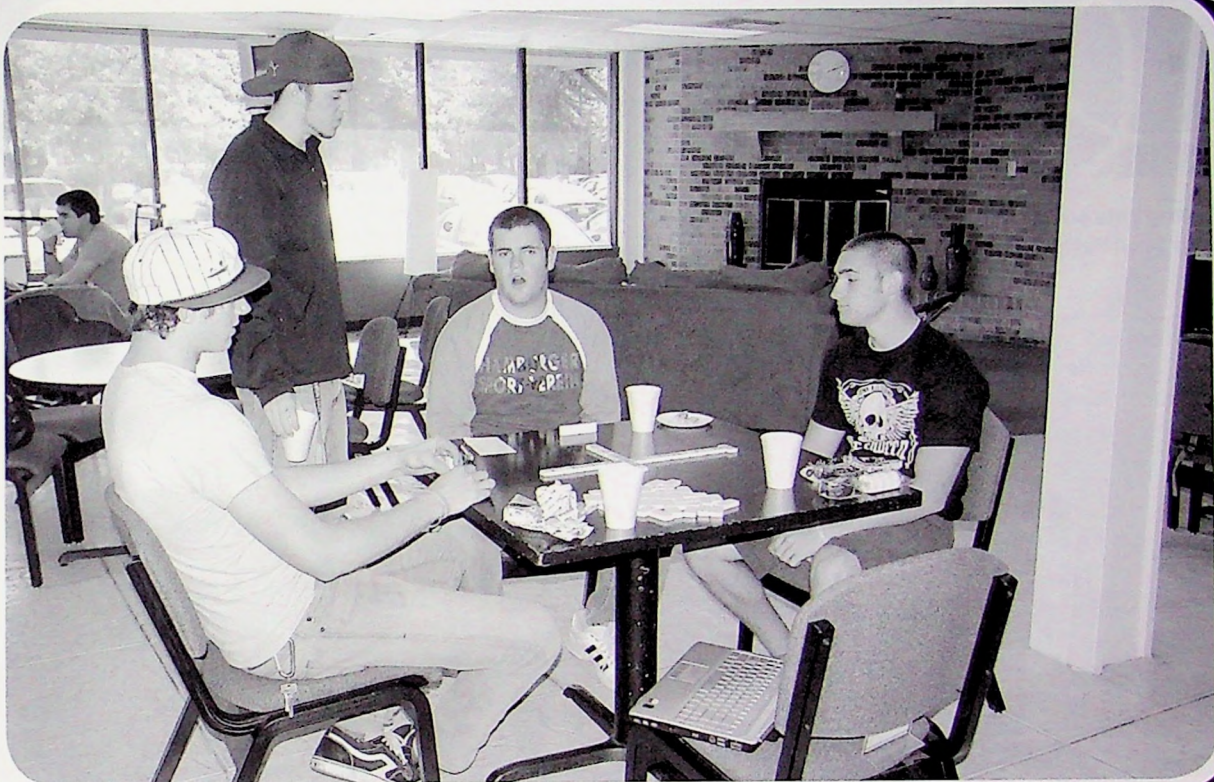

Matthew Varner writes another one of his famous poems at a bonfire event.

MCC Ministries

Joshua Alspaw during drama team performance.

Rachel Moore and Rebekah Hachmeister love the nursing home ministry!

One of the strengths of Manhattan Christian College is their Student Led Ministries. Each year students go out into the community, and throughout the state of Kansas, to serve others in the name of Christ. Whether it is by making friends and spending time with the elderly as part of the Nursing Home Ministry, or using the spiritual gift of performance to spread the good word as a part of the MCC Drama Team, or even going around the state to be ambassadors of the Lord and for the school and help those in need, as part of MCC Ambassadors. It may be hard work, but everyone will agree, it is a lot of fun too.

Skip Day

The Sophomore/Senior vs. Freshman/Junior girls Powder Puff went on even though it rained. These girls are tough.

Randy Short is hungry and ready to grab several pancakes.

Yeah....it's Skip Day! A day to hopefully sleep in and have lots of fun. The rain tried to ruin Skip Day but we managed to have a great time regardless. The day started with breakfast in the Campus Center, but not just any breakfast. Everyone stood in line for their turn to catch pancakes fresh off the grill. After breakfast was the Powder Puff game with the Sophomores/Senior girls prevailing. There were several games set up in the Campus Center and Guitar Hero was a popular attraction. The day ended with a movie in the Wilson Chapel and a BBQ outside the Campus Center. What a good day to end a great year.

Liz Jackson spent many hours perfecting her guitar hero skills. Bryan Sammons assisted her on this song.

Joe McGinn, Garrett Modlin, Bryce Jones, Becca Page, Zach Force, Kevin Foster, Blythe Butcher, and Matt Varner share an intense game of Candyland.

Alina Launchbaugh, Jac Phillips, and Becca Lee plot their strategy on how to win the Powder Puff game.

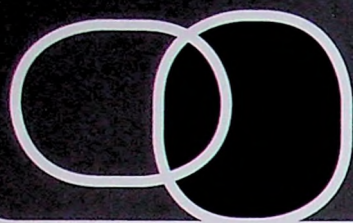

After a tiring Skip Day, Gabe Reed, Paul Catterson, Marisa Love, Leah Scanlan, Bryce Jones, Kevin Foster, and Bryan Sammons enjoy a movie in the chapel.

Camp Team

Since 1985 Manhattan Christian College has sent students out each summer to venture out into the great wild...summer camps and CIY conferences. This year is no exception...the camp teams are ready to go! The three teams, consisting of four students on each team, travel across the country for ten weeks as representatives of the college and assist the camps with whatever work is needed. The camp teams work extremely hard but this is a great way for Middle and High Schoolers to learn about our college and possibly attend in the future.

The Lady Crusaders finished another successful season! MCC finished with an overall record of 26-8 and a 10-0 record in the Midwest Christian College Conference. MCC was the MCCC Conference Champion for the second straight year and the NCCAA Central Region Champion for the third straight year. The team had an excellent showing at the National Tournament going 3-1 in pool play and finishing in the Final Four for the second year in a row. Many of the Lady Crusaders also received individual awards this season: Jen McGauley - Conference MVP, Regional

MVP and Libero of the Year, 1st Team All-American and National Libero of the Year, American Volleyball Coaches Association/NCCAA 1st Team All-American. Katie Jensen - 1st Team All-Conference, 1st Team All-Region, 2nd Team All-American, Scholar Athlete. Laura Skiles - 2nd Team All-Conference, 1st Team All-Region. Aly Woodbury - 2nd Team All-Conference, 1st Team All-Region, Scholar Athlete. Tiffany Brax - 2nd Team All-Conference. Kirsten Cranford - All-Conference Honorable Mention. # S Women's Soccer

Coach Eric Ingmire and his Lady Crusaders had the most successful season. This year was the first year they became the NCCAA Division II National Champions. They won the National Championship by beating Southeastern University 2-0. They worked very hard all year long to finish their season with a very successful record of 10-5-2. Not only was it a very successful year for the team as a whole, but a couple of people from the team received very highly respected awards for their hard work and dedication. Coach Eric Ingmire was named 2009 Coach of the Year for the first time in his career. Not only was the coaching a big success but goal keeper Sarah Regouby was also given the title of 2009 Most Valuable Player of the entire tournament. With this much talent and hard work, we are excited to see what next year will bring for the Manhattan Christian College Lady Crusaders!

Men's Soccer

Men's Soccer had its ups and downs. Led by Coach Dr. Rick Wright, assisted by Serghino Sandy, Jeff Sagstetter, David Ham, Ben Grogg, and Pecos Inchaustegui, the Crusaders ended with a 17-7-1 record. Though the Crusaders lost seven games only five were regular season, and four of those five were against upper level NAIA division teams. Also in the NAIA side of the season MCC won four tough games and tied one, leaving them at 12 - 1 division play during the regular season.

As individuals, the Crusaders fared well with Senior Andrew Crandall getting Scholar Athlete and 1st Team All-American, Senior Drew Proctor making 2nd Team All-American, Junior Nick DeSouza getting Scholar Athlete, Junior Tim Krigbaum also making All Tournament Team and 1st Team All-American, Sophomore Nathan Love making 2nd Team All-American, and Freshman Jared Hart getting Scholar Athlete.

Women's Basketball

The theme this year for the women's basketball team was "Believe." Coach Olson stressed to his players that in order to be successful they had to believe in themselves. The Lady Crusaders ended their season with a record of 24-12. They progressively got better throughout the season, making it to the NCCAA Division II National Tournament. They placed 5th place at nationals, defeating the #6 and #4 seeds. Coach Olson described the team this year as very unified and that the players accepted their roles on the team. With a successful end to their season, the team is proud of their efforts and looks forward to winning the region and conference again next year as well as going to nationals another time. MCCC Conference Season Champs: Brianna Helfrich-Conference MVP; Maggie Park and Lindsey Anderson-2nd team; Becca Stroman- Honorable Mention

NCCAA Central Region Champs: Brianna Helfrich- Regional MVP; Maggie Park- 2nd Team; Chelsea Benson and Lindsey Anderson- Honorable Mention; Larry Olson- Coach of the Year.

B Men's Basketball

The team this year had an overall great season. They went 10-0 in conference, and 19-12 for the whole season. They really showed what they can do when it is time to play, beating some teams by fifty points! They are truly a superior team of athletes and definitely one of the best if not the best in the conference. Three of the seniors on the team this year were selected for all region teams. Mike Williams was selected first team all region, Kenny Park and Jordan Strom were both selected for second team.

There was so many good athletes on the team this year and so much talent on the basketball floor. The guys did great and the whole school is very proud of them, and are very excited to see what the years coming will bring. There is a lot of fresh talent waiting to be tapped into and put to use, and once they do that, they will be unstoppable.

Eammon "Emo" Bradley takes a short lead off of first.

Men's Baseball

This year for baseball started off very slow. The first eight games were cancelled due to bad weather, but then they were on a roll. They were ranked in the top ten in the nation most of the season, winning a majority of their games and putting some schools to shame. The team was a very young team with only two seniors, Josh Garcia and Kenny Park, to lead the team and set a good example. The baseball team played very well this year winning 15 games and losing 14. They played well enough to also make it to Regionals and onto Nationals. There were many good games played and many good plays executed throughout the year to show that they have real talent on the team for being so young. In the years to come the Manhattan Christian College Crusaders baseball team will be a real force to be reckoned with.

“ We felt like we had a chance to win every game, if we started to lose, we just turned our hats around, and it was like we became a whole new team. ” Brandon Roth

Ind Intramurals

Intramurals are the best part of Wednesday nights. Teams battle each other for a chance to win an awesome intramurals t-shirt. The sports included this year were flag football, slab ball, disc golf, dodge ball, indoor volleyball, indoor basketball, ping-pong doubles, 4v4 soccer, and sand volleyball. Though these games can get pretty competitive, they are a great way for students to be connected and have a good time. Intramurals are for everyone, even if you have never played a sport in your life! Intramurals are a great way to escape the stress of homework and enjoy making memories with fellow classmates.

Flag Football- Jacob Carlson, Zack Anderson, Daniel Offield, Maggie Park, Kenny Park, Codi Morris, Cody Waterman

Slab Ball- Brandon Gober, Bennett Dunham, Brian Wilde, Andrew Lichter, Ryan Gochenaur

Sand Volleyball- Jen McGauley, Ellie Stutzman, Kevin Foster, Robbie Ulrich, Cody Burrow.

“ I love seeing people lay it all on the line for the love of the competition and community, in the pursuit of t-shirts. ”

Andrew Crandall

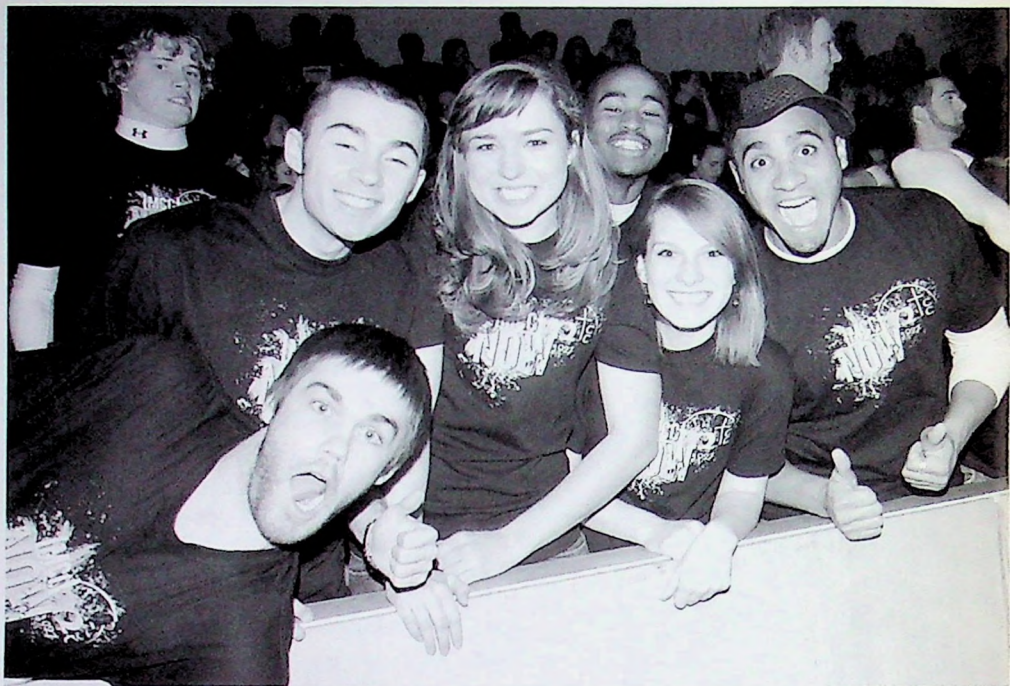

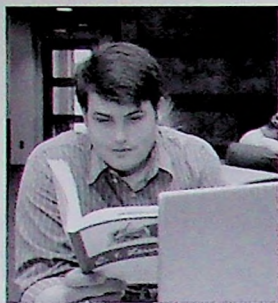

Brittany Baisley and Ashley Wheeler compare their strong biceps while getting ready for a volleyball game.

Indoor Basketball Champs are overjoyed by their big win.

Graduation

With the excitement of "the walk" over, Hayley Domitrovic enjoys a little punch.

Jen McGauley demonstrates a facial expression, one that portrays her excitement and jubilee at graduating.

The 2009-2010 school year came to a close with many students excited for the chapter to come. These black gowns mark a new start for the students as they venture out to the world of the unknown. As they walk across the stage - hoping they will not trip over their own two feet, these students prepare for the destination they have been working on in their time spent at Manhattan Christian College. Smiles, hugs, and a few tears later, these students are ready to embark on the next chapter of their life. Farewell, MCC.

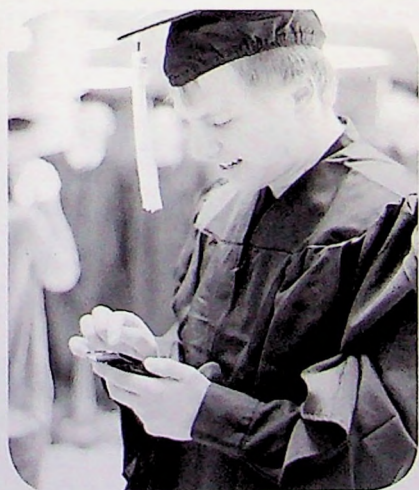

Andrew Crandall gives President Ingram a graduation hug as he walks across the stage.

Ben Cook sends a picture of memories made on graduation day to a close friend as he ends this chapter in his life.
